Simple, Intuitive, Appealing: The PRO Family Remains True to Itself and Grows Yet Again

After consistently refining and extending the successful PRO chair collection, at Orgatec 2016, Flötotto will be showing three new tables to complement the range, which were designed by Konstantin Grcic: a communicative HIGH TABLE, a beautifully shaped MEETING TABLE and a stackable workstation, as well as a practical writing board and fully upholstered versions of all PRO chair designs. With its many new members for office applications, the PRO family once again demonstrates its versatility.

The new table system: PRO MEETING TABLE and PRO HIGH TABLE

“We wanted to reduce the tables to their very essence. People increasingly would like to see beautifully designed and technically simple tables in the office too”, says managing director Frederik Flötotto. With the new meeting table and the high table, Flötotto is offering an appealing solution for the office. Thanks to the simple, ingenious system featuring frames and corner joints, almost every conceivable project-specific measurement can be produced. With its slightly splayed legs, the PRO MEETING TABLE has a residential feel, perfect for individual and friendly office solutions – or, indeed, as a dinner table at home. Based on the same construction principle, the PRO HIGH TABLE is ideal for spontaneous stand-up meetings and brings movement into everyday work life. “We didn’t want to develop a classic office table concept. Rather, we wanted to stay true to the PRO idea and present a table system that, instead of predefining everything, remains open and versatile for its users”, says Konstantin Grcic. And Frederik Flötotto adds: “The PRO HIGH TABLE follows the ergonomic principle of PRO. Working, discussing and having phone conversations while standing up is not only pleasant but also proactively facilitates communication.”

New individual workstations: PRO TABLAR and PRO DESK

The space-saving PRO TABLAR chair is a stand-out product, thanks to its unconventionally shaped, oval writing board, which offers optimal clearance to facilitate sitting down. Specially developed for PRO, the swivel-board remains true to the original idea of offering functionality in a simple and intuitive way. With PRO DESK, Flötotto presents a traditional single workstation: a compact, stackable workstation, a small table for seminars or workshops or simply a desk with a drawer for the home office – the space-saving PRO DESK is extremely versatile.

New textile collection, new seat-shell colour, new leather design

At Orgatec, Flötotto will be presenting a textile collection, especially curated by Konstantin Grcic. The new fabrics are used for upholstered seats, for padded seat shells and – for the first time – also for fully upholstered versions of all PRO CHAIR, PRO ARMCHAIR and PRO STOOL designs. The collection comprises five different fabrics for which charming and distinctive colour matches were developed, whose gradations create a very special aesthetic, giving planners unique options for customised designs.

With a new core-leather covering available for all chair designs, PRO also enters the market for luxury conference rooms or waiting areas. Through the precisely finished core leather, the PRO collection gets a luxury and timeless aesthetic featuring pleasing, warm tactile qualities.

And, last but not least, there's a new colour for all different seat-shell designs in the PRO collection: at Orgatec, Flötotto will present the new olive-grey/khaki shade.

All these additions, big and small, to the PRO family are testament to the fact that the collection is still growing and developing in a dynamic and organic way. The new PRO additions are simple and honest products for both the office and the home.
